

THE DAILY KISS BLOG

Today is Wednesday September 17, 2008

Australian Import!

Find this article at: <http://www.cosmogirl.com/blog/adam-fiorentino-broadway>

A couple of weeks ago Australian actor, Adam-Jon Fiorentino stopped by our offices to meet our Entertainment Editor, Rachel. He's already a huge star in Australia and now he's out to conquer America! First up? Adam is set to star in Mary Poppins on Broadway!

He was such a nice guy - and super cute, too! (He told us all about his dog and the friends that his dog has made in Central Park!) He also shared some funny stories, like, did you know that he once appeared on The Price is Right: Celebrity Edition in Australia? He told us that the woman that they paired him with would not take his advice - and walked away without making it to the Showcase Showdown!

As he's currently in the midst of rehearsing for his Broadway debut, Adam has moved from his native Melbourne to the Big Apple indefinitely. However, he's already made a name for himself all over the world! He was featured as "Troy" in Hollyoaks: In The City in the UK, which later aired on BBC America, so you may even recognize him!

An accomplished stage performer and rising TV star, Adam is definitely going to be making his mark in the States. So check out our awesome photo of him and his official website (<http://www.adamjon.com>).

(And maybe if you're out and about in Central Park - or at Dim Sum, one of his faves! - you may even just run into him.) Also, be sure to check him out on Broadway. After all, he did win critics over in London's West End. I'm sure he will be wowing crowds in the US just as quickly!

Let me know what you think.

Katie Amey, Entertainment Intern.